Bacon And Egg Doria

(4/5) this is the only place that i know about that i can get a japanese doria. they have many different types, so i tried this one recently. yummy. nothing else needs to be said. :) ichikoo on

Hamburger Steak, Fort St. George Style

(5/5) best hamburger steak i've ever had outside of japan. very authentic. furanku_pan on (5/5) hamburger steak is basically a beef patty with some sort of sauce that you can eat with rice. the typical sauce used is soy-sauce-based, but this version was very good. i think it's ketchup/tonkatsu sauce based. ichikoo on

Japanese-style Fried Chicken

(3/5) medium-sized chunks of boneless chicken fried in a not-too-heavy batter. served with rice and cole slaw. pretty good, but more chicken would be nice :) justin on

Beef Curry With Rice And Hamburger Steak

(4/5) good curry, but not much beef. the hamburger steak was really tasty. john on

Chicken Katsu Curry Over Rice

(4/5) the katsu isn't overbreaded or overfried. the curry is nicely flavored and not too watery. ask for more pickles. wallyts on

Enoki Mushroom Spaghetti

(4/5) a very different style spaghetti. it's very asian, and was very good. i believe it used a soy-sauce-based sauce. ichikoo on

Spicy Chicken Teriyaki

(4/5) good teriyaki, though it didn't seem spicy to me. but the meat was still good and tasty : -) i like the thinner sauce. jetleigh on

Bacon And Mushroom Doria

(3/5) i had the one with the tomato sauce. but the white sauce was pretty good too. it's a cheesy baked rice dish that is of good proportion. summerfugue on
