LOST SCOTCHES
 5

Lost Scotch Flight	$75.00
A sampling of Rosebank, Rare Ayrshire, and Imperial

Caperdonich 18 - Signatory*	AVAILABLE OPTIONS
Speyside, Distilled 1994, bottled 2012, 16%. Matured in a Hogshead Cask. Non-chill filtered, no color added. Caperdonich distillery started its life in 1898 under the (relatively uninspiring) name 'Glen Grant #2'. Caperdonich distillery was founded by J. & J. Grant, the people that also built the 'original' Glen Grant distillery in 1840. Glen Grant Number Two remained inactive for six decades, but in the year 1965 it was rebuilt by Glenlivet Distilleries Ltd. who resumed production. The new owners also changed the name to Caperdonich ("Secret Well"). In 1977 Seagram from Canada acquired Caperdonich distillery - before selling it on to Pernod Ricard in 2001. Pernod Ricard closed the distillery one year later in 2002. Fragrant nose, of cut damp grass/ hay, lemon, tropical fruit, malt. Tase is very sweet and creamy. Vanilla custard, canned mixed fruit, sugary syrup. Finishes sweet and spicy. chili, paprika, orange zest.	1 oz: $34.00
	2 oz: $64.00

Rosebank -Signatory Bottling 1990 - 14yr	AVAILABLE OPTIONS
Notes of hay and summer grass in the nose. Hint of sweetness. In the mouth, well done: round and mellow for his age. Caressing finale. Aged in hogshead. Cask Strength (53.5) bottle 209 of 247.	1 oz: $46.00
	2 oz: $85.00

Rare Ayrshire - Signatory 37*	AVAILABLE OPTIONS
From the Ladyburn distillery. Ayrshire is the code name used by several NDPs for the Ladyburn distillery that was closed in 1975 by William Grant & Sons. WG&S does continue to put out rare releases of this wonderful old whisky (some bottles priced at $2000), but won't allow anyone but themselves to actually use the name Ladyburn. The nose starts with some funky, woody and fruity notes which develop into grassy malt, toasted nuts and a charred sweetness like burned marshmallows and some earthy undertones. A nice layer of honeyed sweetness moves through the palate, along with some wood and a nutty overtone. In the background are some darker earthier notes. The finish fades out wood and fruit heavy at a medium pace with some trailing notes of nuts and cumin.	1 oz: $52.00
	2 oz: $91.00

Imperial - Duncan Taylor 17*	AVAILABLE OPTIONS
Speyside, Distilled 1995, bottled 2012, 53.2%. Matured in Oak Casks. Non-chill filtered, no color added. Imperial was dogged by poor timing. Its chequered history meant that it never had a chance to become established as a single malt brand. Too late for the very earliest wave, by the time the category was becoming popular in the 1970s it was already committed to supplying fillings. When the single malt market came of age in the early 1990s, Imperial was closed. Nose of olive, burnt orange zest, oak, and vanilla notes. A creamy palate with fruit and toasted grain. Finishes creamy and bright with touches of ginger and baking spice 38/70	1 oz: $38.00
	2 oz: $70.00

SCOTCH WHISKEY 50

Ardbeg 10

Smoky nose with a full, robust palate of peat smoke flavoured with turf and lapsang souchong tea. Finishes salty, long and filled with fragrant peat reek. A punch in the chops from a stroppy Islay middleweight. Flavor-packed yet delicate 9/17.5

Bowmore 12

Fragrant smokiness against an oily, earthy, background. Some seaweed. Some sherry. Smokiness is sustained all the way through and surges in the finish with lots of salt.10/19

Lagavulin Distillers Edition

Has an aroma of intense raisins, prunes and smoke. The initial notes are surprisingly sweet, with subtle hints of caramel, vanilla and dates that are balanced by a smoky undertone. The ever-lasting finish has deep, dark notes of red fruits and a round, bold finish. 18/32

Isle of Jura 10

Deep amber gold in color, with a light, rich and aromatic nose and silky, almondy wood notes. Palate is firm and distinguished, with elegant tones. A fruity oiliness with just a hint of smoke gently enriches the palate. 7.5/14.5

Kilchoman Sanaig

Sanaig, named after an inlet on Islay's rugged Atlantic coast, is a vatting of Kilchoman matured in both sherry and bourbon barrels. This sherry cask scotch whisky is matured in a high proportion of oloroso barrels, imparting a balance of dried fruits, dark chocolate and rich peat smoke into the spirit. 12.25/23.5

Laphroaig 10

Nose is thick peat with a soft, oaky background. Continuous gentle waves of dry peat lap upon the tastebuds but are balanced by a sweet malt middle and vanilla. Finishes long and peaty, the shy vanilla now begins to show as the oak adds a certain dryness. 8.75/17

Laphroig Quarter Cask

A vibrant young Laphroaig whose maturation has been sped up by ageing in quarter casks. This shows soft sweetness and a velvety feel when first tasted, then the intense peatiness so unique to Laphroaig comes bursting through. Non-chillfiltered, 92 proof 10.75/20.5

Bruichladdich Scottish Barley

Orange on the nose, with mild vanillins and lemon. The barley is still recognizable through it all. Taste of grassy Sauvignon Blanc tones. A very slight (but very nice) fuel note that dissipates with time in the glass and a touch of pepper. Quite drying. Finishes longer than average with honey and vanilla10.75/20.5
